Ellaine,

For discussion on Monday…

P

In addition, we are exploring more activities on vet nurse education. Do you have any existing and/or interests in the area?

Here I summarized our thoughts related to the discussion we had in Jeju WSAVA for the initiatives.

1. Murdoch Advanced Veterinary Clinic Workshop.

In general, [redacted] supports veterinary education initiatives, including this one. We understand that Murdoch has an objective to focus more on student candidates from countries (such as India) where English is readily used in order to enroll more students into your International Graduate Program. In [redacted], we would like to support your on-the-ground activities through our partnership effort together with our in-country distributors.

I am looking forwards to hear from you about your plan and schedule for 2012 workshop.

2. Murdoch International Graduate Program

Consistent to [redacted]s value, we support and agree to contribute to scholarship fund for the Murdoch International Graduate Program. Specifics are subject to discussion, weighing in our investment in relationship to the size of our business we have in a country / countries.

[redacted] and I met last week to discuss his interest in continuing his study for a completion. It is supported by [redacted] with a scholarship of US$8,000 in 2012 and then a similar one in 2013 as we discussed in the next 18 months that are needed to finish up.

3. Veterinary Continuing Education – webinar / seminar

As part of the collaboration, [redacted] is expecting Murdoch to 1) present veterinary medical subjects in webinars to Far East and Asia region with the understanding that [redacted] covers the costs associated the organization of the events; 2) provide seminars at the country (countries) where Murdoch is conducting its workshops in collaboration with Hill's; and 3) may provide experts as speakers in veterinary medical subject areas as planned.

4. Incentive program for the enrollment of Murdoch International Graduate Studies

In countries where are possible, [redacted] would like to help promote Murdoch International Graduate Studies by developing an Incentive Program for practicing vets to enroll in Murdoch International Graduate Studies for the advancement of their veterinary medical education. This would be paid by the fund generated from the Incentive Program.

5. Other consideration

[redacted] would like to continue to have the branding exposure in this collaboration.

6. Timing of the proposal

As discussed, our next step is going to be that Murdoch develops a proposal with the above outlines we agreed, targeting the collaboration to begin June 2012.

I hope my summary reflects what we discussed, and I thank you again for your great support to [redacted]

Kind regards

[redacted]

[redacted].
